St Nicholas Gardens Meeting - 28th February 2023

Present: Jane Nicholson – St Nicholas Church

Alan Clements – Contracts Manager CBC

Marlene Jewell – WTC

Vanessa Gorley – WTC

Councillor Brian O’Kane WTC

The above people represented the stakeholders in St Nicholas Gardens

- Jane representing St Nicholas Church the owners of the Gardens
- Alan Clements from CBC responsible for carrying out works in the Gardens as previously agreed by the stakeholders
- Marlene Jewell and Vanessa Gorley representing WTC the funders for St Nicholas Gardens
- Councillor Brian O’Kane representing WTC who fund flowers and works in St Nicholas Gardens

Alan Clements produced a schedule of work to be carried out in St Nicholas Gardens and to be completed before the end of April 2023:

- Grass Cutting
- Ivy stems cut back at low point
- Raised beds to be weeded (volunteers)
- Internal Hedges to be cut
- Litter picks of all areas of Gardens
- Front and side flower beds to be weeded
- Tree work – pruning and removal
- Dead ivy to be removed from access gate on Duke Street (volunteers)
- Weed spraying

Jane referred to the beds at the bottom of the raised plinth area and asked if some flowering shrubs could be put in there, Alan Clements agreed and said he would speak with the Bennett Brothers to see what would be suitable.

It was agreed that wild flowers had no place in St Nicholas Gardens as they were formal/ornamental Gardens and not suited to wild flowers.

It was noted that the flowers as previously agreed by the stakeholders for Summer 2023 had been ordered and would be planted as normal.

St James Churchyard was discussed (although the Town Council does not fund this) and it was mentioned that wild flowers would fit and look good there particularly as Jane said that St James was an eco Church and had received bronze status. Alan Clements said it might be possible to carry out some other work at St James Churchyard namely:

- Repairs to perimeter walls
- Hedge cutting
- Dealing with dead trees

It was agreed that Jane would send a “shopping list” to Alan Clements.

Councillor O’Kane asked if the little school to the side of the Church could be included in this and Jane said the school would need to be involved and give consent particularly if volunteers were being used (DBS).

Marlene said that a special Coronation seat was being produced by Glasdons and that if the Council agreed to purchase one asked Jane if it could be put on the empty concrete plinth in the Gardens where there had once been a seat and Jane confirmed there would be no objections to this.

The hedge down the side of the Gardens on the Church Street side was discussed as it was overgrown onto the road and needed cut. Marlene said that to actually close the road a RCO would be required (approx £1500). There were difficulties because it was a very narrow road and cars were parked right down one side of it all day leaving just enough room for a vehicle to drive up it. Normally a tractor would be used to cut an external hedge but with cars parked there there would not be enough room for the tractor with the cutting attachment on to go up the road. Alan suggested 2 operatives to go in the early morning to cut it by hand with polesaws and that this would need to be looked into.
